RELIGIOUS-RELATED ACTIVITIES OR PRACTICES

The Board recognizes that views and opinions regarding the relationship of the school and religion are diverse. While community opinions are important in shaping policy, the Board must give primary credence to the United States and Washington State Constitutions and the decisions made by the respective courts when establishing guidelines for making decisions regarding religious-related activities and practices. The Board further accepts the declaration of the State Board of Education that “all students...possess the constitutional right to the free exercise of religion and to have their schools free from sectarian control or influence.” To this end, the Board hereby establishes the following guidelines to preserve the rights of all students within the framework of the respective Constitutions.

1. Instruction about religious matters and/or using religious materials shall be conducted in an objective, neutral, non-devotional manner and shall serve a secular educational purpose.
2. A student may decline to participate in a school activity that is contrary to his/her religious convictions.
3. A student may distribute religious literature under the same conditions that other literature may be distributed on the campus provided that such distribution does not intrude on the operation of the school. (See Policy 3220 – Distribution of Materials)
4. Material and/or announcements promoting religion may not be distributed by non-students or on behalf of groups or individuals who are not students.
5. Religious services, programs, or assemblies that contain elements advocating or disparaging religion shall not be conducted in school facilities during school hours or in conjunction with any school-sponsored or school-related activity. Religious groups may use school facilities under the policy providing for facilities use. Activities of such groups shall be clearly separated from school sponsored activities. (See Policy 4260 – Use of Facilities)
6. Musical, artistic, and dramatic presentations which have a religious theme may be included in course work and programs on the basis of their particular artistic and educational value or traditional secular usage. They shall be presented in a neutral, non-devotional manner, be related to the objective of the instructional program, and be accompanied by comparable artistic works of a non-religious nature.
7. A student, upon the request of a parent, may be excused to participate in religious instruction for a portion of a school day provided the activity is not conducted on school property. (Credit shall not be granted for such instruction.)
8. Upon receipt of a parent(s) request, a student shall be excused from attending school in observance or a religious holiday.
9. Students may wear religious attire or symbols provided they are not materially and substantially disruptive to the educational process.
10. Commencement exercises shall be free from sectarian influence, including invocations and benedictions.

11. There shall be no school sponsorship of baccalaureate services. Interested parents and students may plan and organize baccalaureate exercises provided that the service is not promoted by the school and staff and student participation is voluntary.
12. Staff members are not allowed to display objects that give messages, or portray symbols, of a religious nature. Every attempt must be made by all staff to assume that the educational environment is free from sectarian control or influence.

Students, parents, and staff who are aggrieved by practices or activities conducted in the school or district may register their concern with the building principal or District superintendent.
